

Find where all five suspects stood. There is exactly one suspect in each row and in each column, and never more than one suspect in a room. The murder room (shaded, with the body) holds exactly one suspect: the killer. The small letters in each square are the suspects who could still be standing there - cross them out as you rule them out.

Clues

- Andrea needed fewer steps to reach Briggs than any other suspect did.
- Every route from June's position to the murder room would require her to first pass through Ruben's room.
- Neither Andrea nor Cynthia was in the murder room, but every route between them passed through it.
- The suspect standing in the same column as the back door was male.
- Ruben's room was larger than Briggs's room, which in turn was larger than Cynthia's room.
